The Elizabethtown News says the latest definition of a Republican is "calamity howler." Add to this "Presidential knocker" and the answer is complete.

This is a year when no plow, spade or other utensil to stir the soil should be idle. The ground should be made to produce its full capacity in diversified crops. The greater part of Europe is in a great measure idle, except for the business of killing each other, and there will be a big demand for food of all kinds. This ought to be a big year for farmers.

The greatest millstone hung around the neck of the Republican party in years ago, which brought it ultimately to national defeat and which it now appears to want to take up again, was its alliance with unscrupulous government—the trusts and big corporations. Its strongest implement in this fight was the protective tariff—protecting nobody but its wealthy political proteges. For many years it deceived the people with this specious "protection" plea, but at last the eyes of the voters were opened and everybody knows the result. The Republican party has lost its grip upon the confidence of the public. To win, it must adopt new political tactics.

The people have now seen two years of Woodrow Wilson as President and they have taken his measure. They have found him able, fearless and sagacious in his administration of public affairs and eminently fitted for the high position which he holds. Few, if any, Presidents of our country have had the vexing questions and hard trials that have confronted his statesmanship and encompassed his duties. No President, in the whole, has acquitted himself more nobly or blamelessly. The closing of Congress does not end his trials by any means, for we are still menaced by international troubles. But Wilson will not be found lacking in great executive ability.

The Harrison Anti-Narcotic Law which went into effect the first day of this month is one of the most drastic measures ever enacted. Under the operation of this law no preparation containing cocaine, opium or any of their derivatives can be sold except by a licensed druggist on the prescription of a registered physician. This prescription must be constantly in evidence for at least two years. The penalty for violation is a heavy fine and imprisonment and the law is a national one. No doubt many "dope" users think their "personal liberties" are being imposed upon, as in the case of some liquor people viewing Prohibition laws, but the new drug edict seems to be meeting with general approval.

We print upon the third page of The Herald to-day an article from an old friend of ours and a frequent contributor to the columns of the paper. He writes upon the subject of Prohibition, to which he is strenuously opposed. In his contention he differs from the views and policy of The Herald in a great measure, but we are not so biased in our opinions as to bar opposing views from our columns. We have never been able to entertain but one view towards the fearful liquor question, and that is consistent opposition. Prohibition is not altogether to save men's souls, but to save their physical and mental faculties. For this reason great employers and great official powers are forbidding the use of liquor in their domains or in other words, enforcing Prohibition as best they can. Men's evil passions and impulses must be restrained, else we would need few laws of any kind.

FAVORABLE COMMENT ON CANDIDACY OF MR. LIKENS

The Kentucky State Journal, in commenting on Mr. Likens' candidacy for the Democratic nomination for Secretary of State, says:

Assistant State Auditor G. B. Likens, who earned the title of "watch dog of the treasury," before the present administration was many months old, has made his formal announcement as a candidate for the Democratic nomination for Secretary of State.

Mr. Likens is a native of Ohio county, was Circuit Clerk one term and City Attorney of Hartford, and has always been regarded as one of the strong Democrats of that section. In his brief announcement he says he will devote the same painstaking care to the performance of his duties if elected Secretary of State as he has taken with his duties in the Auditor's office and invites an investigation of his record for evidence of his qualification for the elective office.

WARNING TO CARRANZA IS SENT BY UNCLE SAM

Washington, March 8.—Gen. Carranza has been informed in a note from the United States Government that unless there is an improvement in conditions with respect to foreigners and their interests in Mexican territory under his control, such steps as may be necessary will be taken by the American Government to obtain the desired protection.

The note is the strongest and most emphatic document that has been sent by the Washington Government to Mexico since the correspondence with Huerta a year ago. Carranza is warned that the United States has viewed with deep concern the growing complaints made by foreigners generally against his administration of affairs and, now, in effect, demands an early change.

Isn't This True?

If the average property owner put the same value on his wealth when he goes to the bank to borrow money that he does when the Assessor comes around, the question of money borrowing would be a thing of the past.—[Cadiz Record.]
